Colour of the Season

Red/Crimson

The energy-bomb

Red is the classic colour of the element of Fire, the symbol of passion,

excitement,

enthusiasm,

strength,

momentum,

dynamism,

energy in motion

(e-motion). It exudes vitality and positive views. It helps to rid of negativity. It boosts our energies but may also speed up excessively, bringing impatience and aggression.

Crimson is an inviting colour for love, happiness, luck and inspiration. Red is the colour of the Root Chakra, associated with blood, life-force, instincts and survival.

Baked Enamel is a delicate covering fused on copper in an 840 °C oven. Its smooth, shiny surface is owed to its glass content, besides which it also contains metal oxides producing the different colours.

Learning the technique was a childhood dream come true for me. I was 10 when witnessed the process, the magic of feeding the nicely, colourfully decorated pieces into the red-hot oven and soon getting shiny jewellery in my hands. It has been magic ever since as well as a form of meditative art and a way of giving beauty and the power of colours to others.
